Italian Society Celebrates 42nd Anniversary - 150 Members Enjoy Banquet

Society Now Embraces All Pass Towns; Was First Formed In Lille In 1907.

Feasting and dancing marked the 42nd anniversary of the Coleman Italian Society when a banquet was held in the Italian hall Friday evening.

On the long tables decked with carnations and laden with food that included native eats such as salami and capicola, more than 150 members of the society and their friends gathered to mark the occasion.

Along with the long salami that resembled sausages and the thick capicola, hot to the taste, were an array of salads, loads of turkey and chicken, veal roast, pickles, fish, lobsters and a three-tiered cake, presented by the ladies' lodge for the occasion.

And behind all on the wall, two flags were crossed: the Union Jack and the Italian flag with two hands clasped to signify Italian mutual aid. Gathered with Benny Fontana, president of the Coleman society and the women's society president, Genevieve Rizzo, were officials and representatives from other societies at Michel, Fernie and farther points.

The Coleman Italian Society was first formed at Lille, near Frank, then moved to Coleman, Mrs. Rizzo said. Members of the society belong to all towns in the Pass.

After supper they had music and dancing. The Michel orchestra was in attendance, and, as one lady member said, "The old timers danced with the young chickens."

Activities of the societies were restricted during the war, and banquets were not held. But their revival promises to add color again to this town's activities, and in the near future the ladies' society may ask the men's society to a return banquet. Outings in the summer, such as picnics, may also be planned, members said.

Mrs. Jack Northam Passes Away At Vancouver

Sister of Mrs. Nick Nicholas; Had Operated White Lunch Restaurant on Main Street in Middle Thirties.

Mrs. Nick Nicholas received the sad news by telephone from Vancouver on Sunday evening of the death in a Vancouver hospital of her sister, Mrs. Jack Northam. Mrs. Northam, who was 37, was well known in Coleman, having assisted her husband in the operation of the White Lunch restaurant in the premises now occupied by Mrs. Kwasney's Dry Goods Store.

They came to Coleman from Medicine Hat in 1935 and operated the popular White Lunch cafe for approximately three years before selling the business and returning to Medicine Hat. They left for Vancouver in 1947 to operate a small grocery store in the coast city. Mrs. Northam, who had suffered from cancer of the lungs, became the recipient of worldwide publicity early in 1948 when she flew to Australia to undergo treatment at the hands of John Brand, whose claims of being able to cure the dread disease had stirred a world-wide controversy in the realms of medicine.

Determined to give the Australian's purported cure every chance to prove itself, the Vancouver Sun took a personal interest in Mrs. Northam's journey to the "Down Under" continent and maintained the bright glare of publicity on Brand for several weeks until the tragic day when Mrs. Northam realized that Brand's claims were unfounded and returned to Vancouver.

Funeral services were conducted in Vancouver in Tuesday afternoon of this week and Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas, accompanied by Mrs. Nicholas' mother, Mrs. W. Jensen, of Medicine Hat left Coleman by car early Monday morning to attend the last rites. Mrs. M. Nelson, Mrs. H. Gunther and Mrs. Vic Evers, all of Medicine Hat, also journeyed to the Coast to attend the services. Besides her husband and mother, Mrs. Northam is survived by two daughters, Janet, 12 and Norma, 16.

Variety Will Be Keynote Of Choral Concert

Music Lovers Urged to Secure Tickets Early for Season's Outstanding Choral Event.

Coleman's many music lovers can look forward to an outstanding presentation of their favorite choral numbers when they throng to the High School Auditorium on the evenings of Thursday and Friday, March 24 and 25 to enjoy the concerts being staged on those dates by the Coleman Choral Society under the leadership of Mrs. F. R. Duncanson. A glance at the program arranged for the auspicious occasions reveals the increased confidence and versatility achieved by this brilliant-trained group during their preparatory rehearsals for the "Big Events".

Indicating the universal nature of the offerings is the fact that numbers will range from a special choral arrangement of "The Blue Danube" to the rollicking strains of "Rolling Down To Rio." Interspersed between are old favorites and a sprinkling of new numbers that are sure to delight the audience. In addition there will be solos, trios, duets and quartette numbers performed by members of the Choir, plus instrumental and vocal renditions by assisting artists.

Accommodation is limited and music lovers are urged to get their tickets well in advance to ensure a seat at either performance. Tickets can be obtained from members of the Choral Society or the Coleman Pharmacy. They are going rapidly, so, supporters of Choral music had better get theirs to avoid last minute disappointments.

Celebrate Their Silver Wedding

Seventy Well-Wishers Gather at Party. Beautiful China Cabinet Highlights Numerous Gifts to Surprised Couple

About seventy well-wishers gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Slowik on Blainmore Road recently to stage a surprise party in honor of the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Desharnais. The honored couple was presented with a beautiful China Cabinet and a four-piece Silver Tea Service by members of their own family.

Numerous other appropriately beautiful gifts were presented to the genuinely surprised couple by the many friends who gathered for the happy occasion. A lovely three-tier wedding cake with a miniature bride and groom adorned the China Cabinet. Mr. and Mrs. Desharnais both expressed their heartfelt thanks to their family and friends for all the beautiful gifts they had received and their sincere appreciation for the efforts made in their honor. Following the serving of a dainty lunch, singing and dancing was enjoyed to the wee small hours. Laurence McGillivray and Tony Gus supplied the music.

Roxy's New Confectionary Stand Now In Operation

New Innovation Proves Popular With Patrons; Is Only One In Pass.

Patrons of the Roxy Theatre were pleasantly surprised on Friday evening to note the well-stocked Confectionary Stand that Ed. Somshor has installed in the foyer of the Roxy Theatre. This new service to Coleman moviegoers is in line with Ed's avowed desire to present his customers with all the possible extras that mark the operation of a modern theatre.

The idea of being able to secure the all-important candy without leaving the building is making a great hit with Coleman's screen fans. The children, in particular, showed their appreciation at the Saturday matinee when they swamped the stand with orders. The ample space in the Roxy's foyer makes the candy counter a "natural" fixture and in this connection it is doubtful if the counters will be set up in the Bellevue and Blainmore theatres due to the limited lobby space.

Mayo Clinic Trip Successful For Valin

Doctors At Famous Rochester Centre Diagnose Eye Ailment As Caused by Altitude

Art Valin returned to Coleman from Rochester, N.Y. this week with the good news that the troublesome eye ailment that has bothered his vision for the past five years is caused by factors of altitude. Art spent a week at the world-renowned Mayo Brothers clinic and was given a thorough going over by specialists there. He underwent a complete medical check-up which revealed his general condition to be A1.

An exacting series of examinations by eye specialists then followed and this revealed the fact that the basic cause of the ailment was due to the high altitude in which he worked and resided. A final report will be delivered to Art's Coleman doctor and it is expected that on his recommendation Art will make preparations to leave for a lower altitude to work and live.

While in the office recounting the details of his Rochester trip Art expressed a strong wish that we convey his warmest thanks to the Coleman branch of the Canadian Legion, the Coleman Lions Club and Mr. J. J. McIntyre for the vital assistance they rendered him in getting to the clinic.

Crow's Nest Railway Veteran Retires

Crow's Nest Neighbors Honor Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Turner At Farewell Gathering

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Andrews was the scene of a most enjoyable event on Wednesday evening when friends and neighbors gathered to honor Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Turner, on the occasion of their retirement and departure from Crow's Nest. A tri-lite and pictures of the Crow's Nest Pass district were presented to the honored couple by Superintendent E. C. Lister, of Nelson.

Mr. Turner commenced his railroading career in November, 1910 and now after 38 years service has been forced to retire due to ill-health. Mrs. Turner arrived in Crow's Nest as a bride from England. They have lived in Crow's Nest for the past 35 years but have decided, temporarily at least, to start their retirement in Macleod. Later, they hope to take up residence in Coleman. The Turners are well known throughout the Pass and this fact lies behind their desire to spend their retirement among their many friends here who will be wishing them many more years of retired happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Dompe and baby, of Beverly, Alberta, are the guests of Mrs. Dompe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Anderson.

I. Raymond was elected as president of the Coleman Credit Union at the first annual meeting held here Sunday in the Catholic Hall. G. Kant was appointed as vice president. Postponed Municipal Hospital Election To Be Held on March 26

George Coupland and William Berry of Bellevue, Albert Hollingshead of Hillcrest Will Contest Vacancies. Procedure Will Be Same As Originally Planned.

The Crow's Nest Pass Municipal Hospital Board election to fill the two vacancies in local Improvement District No. 10 will be held in the Oddfellows hall, Bellevue, Saturday, March 26 at 2.30 p.m. The election was originally scheduled for February 28 but considerable dissatisfaction was registered at that meeting to the procedure being adopted by the Department of Health and after a stormy session the chairman, John Dudley, of Hillcrest accepted a motion from the floor that the election be postponed and re-scheduled under a different electoral setup.

At that time, three candidates had been nominated, the two retiring members, George Coupland, of Bellevue and Albert Hollingshead, of Hillcrest and William Berry, of Bellevue, who was seeking election for the first time. The election had been called under the Provincial Act governing hospitals but all 3 candidates and their supporters had voiced opposition to the procedure being adopted and the meeting adjourned following Mr. Dudley's acceptance of the postponement motion.

Details of the stormy session were immediately despatched to E. E. Maxwell, supervisor of Municipal Hospitals at Edmonton and in reply he stressed the fact that the procedure arranged for the L.I.D. No. 10 elections were standard throughout the province and he saw no reason for any special action from them in connection with the holding of these elections in the Pass area. He terminated his reply with instructions to re-schedule the election meeting within ten days of a new nominating deadline date, March 15.

This placed the election date at Saturday, March 26. When nominations closed at 5 p.m. on Monday of this past week, it was learned that the same three candidates will contest the election. In view of the fact that the Supervisor has ordered the election to be conducted under the original plan it will be interesting to learn what reaction will develop when the meeting is held in Bellevue on the prescribed date. One thing is certain, in view of the fact that the contending elements are obviously reconciled to the probability that the Act will be observed to the fullest on this occasion, the Oddfellows hall will be packed to its utmost capacity by the supporters of the three nominees.

Mr. Maxwell also stressed in his directions for the new election the desirability of all Board members being present to overcome the possibility of another fiasco developing.

supervisory committee.

In view of forthcoming expenses that the pool would undergo, a small lottery was held. All members donating 10 cents into the collection received a chance to have one half the money collected put to their credit in the credit union. E. Krywolt won the lottery.

Office hours were set and will be held in Adam Wilson's Insurance Office from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. on pay Saturdays. The directors will meet every Sunday after a pay day.

Conservation In Canada

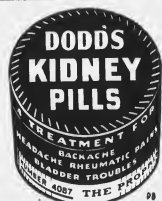

SOIL AND WATER CONSERVATION on the prairies long ago ceased to be the problem of individual farmers and became matters of national interest and concern. Agricultural scientists have for some time been drawing attention to the fact that due to soil erosion and other factors which are causing deterioration of farm lands, there is danger of an acute and lasting shortage of food throughout the world in the near future. The problem has already been faced in Canada and a great deal has been done to conserve moisture and preserve the soil of our great wheat growing areas.

Canada Leads Other Nations

Nevertheless we are told that there are over 30,000 abandoned farms in Canada, totalling some 5,023,541 acres. These figures would undoubtedly be higher were it not for what has been accomplished in Western Canada in the last fifteen years in regard to soil and moisture conservation. L. B. Thomson, director of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration, under which so much effective work has been done since the serious drought in the 1930's, stated recently that he believes that Canadian farmers have much to be proud of because they are now ahead of most places in the world in this important work.

Problem Now Serious One

It is interesting and encouraging to hear from an authoritative source that Canada is ahead of other places in dealing with this problem, now recognized to be a serious one in many parts of the world. The success which has been attained here testifies to the industry and initiative of those who have carried on the work of the P.F.R.A. and other services which have been maintained to help the farmers. It also testifies to the co-operation which the farmers have given in carrying out the recommendations made to them. The problem is one which may never be entirely solved, and although much help can be given by governments and universities it is also important that farmers should at all times be organized to deal with the individual problems of their own particular districts. There is every reason to be confident that there will be continued co-operation and progress in this undertaking which is important not only to our own country, but to people in other countries who look to Canada for vital supplies of food.

Has Diplomatic Reply In Referring To Calgary Stampede

OTTAWA.—Western newspapers have belabored him for it, but External Affairs Minister Pearson still stands by his tribute to the Ottawa Rough Riders as "the best team I've ever seen play."

The minister paid the tribute at a recent testimonial banquet for the Riders, defeated by the Calgary Stampede in the Grey Cup final at Toronto last December.

"I said Rough Riders were the best team I'd ever seen and so they are," affirmed Mr. Pearson.

But then he added quickly: "I didn't happen to mention that I'd never seen Calgary Stampede players."

He was at a United Nations meeting in Paris at the time of the Grey Cup final.

Somebody suggested to the Scotch candy-maker that he give a little more for the money. So he put longer sticks in his lolly-pops.

Wife: "Well, dear, I'll meet you at the Baltimore at twelve for lunch."

Husband: "All right, but please don't be any later than one."

Old Lady: "Son, can you direct me to the People's Savings bank?"

Boy: "Yes, ma'am, for a quarter?"

Old Lady: "No, but that mighty high pay, my boy?"

Boy: "No, ma'am, not for a bank director."

An actress at a party, seeing an author who she disliked, went over to congratulate her on her latest book.

Pat: "It's a swell trick. You should hear the witnesses contradict each other."

"I had had luck with both my wives."

"How is that?"

"The first eloped."

"And the second?"

"Didn't."

Railroader Recalls "Good Old Days"

EDMONTON, Alta.—Peter Batter, Western pioneer, celebrated his 90th birthday here recently and mourned "the good old days." For a reason too.

It's been years since he stood off 500 armed Indians, or gave up a rancher's daughter with a dowry of 100 head of cattle to marry another girl or even ordered a $5 gallon jug of good Scotch whisky for the "end-of-steel" at Winnipeg.

Pete came to Canada from Cleveland in 1882 and started spiketracking for the Canadian Pacific Railway Company as the railway was being built across the prairies.

"They paid me $150 for a 10-hour day and I said to myself "this country's fit for neither man nor beast" but with 25 cents in my pocket, chances of getting out of it were mighty slim. Time I had enough money, I didn't want to leave," Pete recalled.

The Riel Rebellion tension was at its height as Pete and his crew laid steel across the prairies between Medicine Hat and Calgary. One day a raiding party of 500 Indians descended on them.

"They had a rifle apiece and we had five among us," the old timer said. "It took a lot of nerve to go on laying the track with them getting closer and nearer-looking all the time."

The railroaders held their ground until a missionary, Father Lacombe, convinced the Indians that the railroad would be of advantage to them. By spring, 1887, Pete's thoughts had "lightly turned."

Only eligible girl in the immediate vicinity of his prairie home was a rancher's daughter whose dowry included 100 head of cattle and $1,000 in cash.

So Pete, who had saved up $750, returned to Cleveland "to pick me out a wife."

At Cleveland, his first proposal was refused. The girl's mother pointed out that in Canada, Indians frequently killed white people and ate them. After a 100-day courtship, he married a pretty dishwasher and brought her to Canada.

At 90, Pete attributes his longevity to hard work, long-lived ancestors.

West Lumber Output Higher

OTTAWA.—Western production of sawn lumber bolstered output from the rest of Canada in 1948, the bureau of statistics reports.

Increases in the output of British Columbia and Alberta counter-balanced declines in all other provinces as the all-Canada production totalled 5,326,000,000 board feet, a slight decline from the 5,346,000,000 feet produced in 1947.

Output by provinces, with 1947 totals in brackets: Prince Edward Island 9,830,000 (12,705,000) feet; Nova Scotia 273,058,000 (348,389,000); New Brunswick 220,303,000 (288,817,000); Quebec 1,050,961,000 (1,144,138,000); Ontario 699,518,000 (725,289,000); Manitoba 47,096,000 (56,224,000); Saskatchewan 83,614,000 (107,572,000); Alberta 273,347,000 (246,575,000); British Columbia 2,668,147,000 (2,415,171,000).

Coal Mine Needs Railway

OTTAWA.—Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, Trade Minister, said in the Commons he could give no assurance that a railway branch line will be built into the Burns hard coal mine at Sheep River in Alberta.

He was replying to John R. MacNicol (PC—Toronto-Davenport), who asked whether Mr. Howe could give this assurance for hard coal consumers in Toronto.

Mr. Howe said the property is miles away from the nearest railway. Negotiations for construction of a branch line must necessarily be undertaken between the mine owners and the railway itself.

KITCHEN MEDITATIONS

NOSTALGIA

By JANE DALE

There's a beauty in the dawning on a frosty morn in winter:
There's a beauty in the hoar frost on the trees,
And the silhouettes of buildings with a misty veil about them,
And the tang of freshness coming down the breeze.

There's a beauty in the courage of those we know who battle

To earn a living through the frost and snow,

Yes, there's beauty in the living as in the frosty morning

And 'tis to it all that our thoughts will ever go.

Though we live in ease and comfort where the soft winds lull our senses

And our paths more often lie in pleasant ways;

There's a tugging at our heart strings which no other clime can touch;

There's a longing for the clear sharp winter days.

Ezimicki received his 134 minutes in 49 games.

More Scoring Points This Season

Whoever wins the N.H.L. scoring title this season will finish with considerably more points than did Elmer Lach, 1947-48 winner. Lach won the scoring crown last season with 61 points, one more than Buddy O'Connor. The high-scoring Chicago duo of Roy Conacher and Doug Bentley already have 50 and 58 points respectively. With ten more games left to play the scoring leader this year should finish with around 70 points.

Close To Century Mark

Murphy Chamberlain of Canadiens and Harry Watson of Toronto are getting mighty close to gaining entrance into the select Century Club. The Century Club, which is composed of National Hockey League players who have scored 100 goals or more, will admit Chamberlain when he tallies two more counters and when Harry dents the twine three more times. Both should make the Club this season.

Rare Breed Of German Dogs Owned By Saskatchewan Men

YORKTON, Sask.—Matt Sterzer of Yorkton, one of five accredited Canadian members of the Weimaraner Kennel Club of America, owns a pup of that rare breed. There are only about 1,500 of the Weimaraner breed in the world, 400 of them on the North American continent. There are two in Saskatchewan.

Another Saskatchewan man, Frank Bush of Moose Jaw, recently bought a Weimaraner and was the first to have it registered with the Canadian Kennel Club. R. Y. McCully of Moncton, N.B., owns a dog of similar breed.

Mr. Sterzer's pup is named Elma von Elmtrandy, a name he conjured from his wife's name—Elma, has own Christian name, Matt, and the name of their son Randy.

The proud owners of Weimaraner dogs will tell you that the breed came into being shortly before 1810 and was developed by the nobles of the German court of Weimar, who desired a dog entirely different from existing species.

They wanted a dog whose appearance would match his ability; who would be kindly, powerful and fast, and an all-round hunting dog of outstanding intelligence.

Instead of being kennelled, the dog was allowed to grace the hearthside of his master's castle. All wealding puppies were destroyed. The dogs could not be sold, traded or given away without the consent of their breeders.

Game Dogs

In Germany the Weimaraner was worked out on big game such as wolves, wild boar and bear. The dogs are noted for their skill with upland game and waterfowl, and are said to be unmatched at soft-mouth retrieving.

Dog owners commonly refer to the Weimaraner breed as "grey ghosts", not because of their silver-grey color but rather for their stealthy, soft cushion-like pads on the Weimaraner's feet enable it to tread quietly through the woods.

The mother of the pup owned by Mr. Sterzer was Rob Rock Tina, which carried the famous blood of Silver Blue Sue and Silver Lord Eric, who made a name for himself fighting wolves single-handed in California.

Elma's father is a recent import, Dido von Lechsteinhof, which won the international dog show at Vienna in 1947 and 1948.

Mr. Sterzer also has purchased from Germany a Weimaraner male named Ajax von Reimigne.

To own one of these dogs you must be an accepted member of the Weimaraner Club of America. It's necessary too to have the purchase price of several hundred dollars.

Curling Tournament Of 1950 To Be Held At Vancouver

HAMILTON, Ont.—The 1950 Canadian curling championships will be held at Vancouver, first time in the 20-year history of the tournament the Dominion final has been held in British Columbia.

The announcement was made by Hon. Thane Campbell, chief justice of Prince Edward Island. Mr. Justice Campbell is a trustee of the championship.

No date was set for the 1950 "spiel" which probably will be held at the Vancouver Forum.

Battles Cougar Bare-Handed

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C.—An unarmed, 24-year-old millhand tackled and won barehanded a furious battle with an enraged cougar near here. Ruben Hagen suffered severe leg gashes as the animal's teeth and claws ripped into him.

Hagen came upon the big cat a day after it had raided his farm near Camp Creek.

It sprang and the two locked in grim struggle. Hagen managed to wrestle the cougar to the ground and tore himself loose.

The following day, Ivor Hanus and Murel Elston tracked the animal to where it was feasting on the carcass of a horse and killed it.

Pioneers in the district can remember only one case of a cougar killing a man.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Dr. Magowan Takes A Walk

Dr. Magowan and his United church adherents took a little walk following their evening service last Sunday. It wasn't a very long walk by geographical measures — the distance from the good doctor's St. Paul's United church to the Rev. Mr. Dewdney's St. Alban's Anglican church is only a few blocks — but measured in terms of Christian unity, Rev. Dewdney's guests covered an immeasurable amount of the wilderness that separates the denominational orchards of Christian cultivation.

What transpired during the pleasant social hour that followed merely serves to illustrate the common principles of universal brotherhood that form the foundation of both churches. We can rest assured that the game of "20 Questions", under the capable direction of Mr. Sid Short proved stimulating and educational for this unique gathering who enjoyed this novel way of developing biblical knowledge.

It would be cause for real gratification if the answers to the momentous issues now confronting Christian civilization could be solved in twenty questions. For even as Mr. Short and his panel of experts were arriving at their answers by the deductive sequences of their instructive game, on the other side of the world are men, whose hatred for the established institutions of Christian faith does not allow latitude to play any kind of a game that may divert them from their avowed purpose of destroying their greatest enemy — Christianity.

The persecutions of Cardinal Mindszenty and the Protestant ministers of Bulgaria are merely the opening guns in the titanic struggle now developing on a world-wide front. Therein lies the real significance of the brotherly invitation of St. Alban's Anglicans to Dr. Magowan and his congregation. Let those plotting in the dark shadows of that "Curtain" take heed. The potentially greatest army in the world is beginning to close its ranks.

Factors Still Favor Crows Nest Route

Public Works Minister D. B. McMillan's recent announcement that the Dominion Government had asked for an estimate of the cost of building a road from Walsh, on the Saskatchewan border, east of Medicine Hat, to Field B.C. via the Kicking Horse Pass, would appear to confirm our fears that this will ultimately prove to be the section over which the authorities are planning to route the Trans-Canada Highway. Mr. McMillan's statement that the estimated cost given was $17,250,000 brings up the question of how much it would have cost to build a super-highway from Walsh to Fernie, B.C.—Fernie being approximately similar to Field for the purpose of arriving at a comparative estimate of costs.

As it now stands the road will follow a reasonably direct line from the Ontario border to Walsh, then, for purposes that demand a clearer explanation than that already given, the road will strike off at a north-west tangent to pass through Calgary and on through the Kicking Horse Pass to connect with the Big Bend highway. Having negotiated this notorious unreliable and tortuous sweep into nowhere the motorist will be confronted with the task of piloting his vehicle along the mile-high ledges of the Fraser Canyon as he descends into the coastal region.

The trouble experienced in the Fraser Canyon this Spring with snowslides of monstrous immensity has caused a great deal of concern to the Public Works engineers of the Coast province, particularly after they had allowed themselves to compromise to Alberta's request that they agree to the Central route.

There must be a lot of heart-searching post-mortems being conducted by the highway engineers in Victoria these days as they analyse their failure to stick with their original plan to press for completion of the southern route. There will be a lot of heart-searching post-mortems in Edmonton too, if they persist in adhering to the present proposals. The argument that the central route is the best from the standpoint of military necessity is another

New Seed - - - Is The Best

"New seed is the best" is a piece of advice given around 300 B.C. by Theophrastus, a noted agricultural authority in ancient Greece. Theophrastus had noted that the seed selectors of old, who correspond to modern plant breeders, were continually selecting new strains of seed which greatly improved the yield and quality of field crops.

The newest and best seed obtainable today is Registered seed. The use by any farmer of a few bushels of Registered seed will be found to be an investment that will bring him higher grades, higher yields, and so increased income.

Pass M.L.A. Says Road Route Not Yet Decided Upon

William Kovatch Informs Public Works Officials That Government Has Not Yet
Made Final Decision.

In a telephoned statement from Edmonton on Sunday evening to a Public Works official in the Pass, William Kovatch, M.L.A. for Pincher-Crows Nest asserted that press reports of a final decision on the route of the Trans-Canada Highway were premature, if not altogether erroneous. He reiterated a belief that no final decision would be forthcoming until further study had been given to the vexatious problem. Mr. Kovatch stressed the fact that the Provincial Government was in no position to issue a definite statement pending another Dominion Government sponsored conference to finalise the ultimate plans for the National highway.

SOUTH ROUTE'S MERITS STRESSED AT CRANBROOK

E. R. McFarland of Lethbridge, founder of the Brandon-to-Nelson caravan and the campaign for the southern Trans-Canada highway route, reiterated the claims of the Southern Trans-Provincial highway for first consideration to the annual meeting of the Cranbrook Board of Trade at which he was the main speaker.

He outlined the advantages of the southern route.

It served the interior's largest industrial area, and could be kept open all winter. Cranbrook Board as member of this Association, is solidly supporting the Southern Route's claims.

FLOOD OF TOURISTS BOOKLETS OUT SOON

Improved services to facilitate the tourist movement in Alberta this year are being considered by branches of the Alberta Motor Association and other organizations.

Plans were announced lately of improvements to auto camps in some towns in view of the increased flow of tourists expected this year.

One new plan is a teletype service that would link Edmonton, Banff and possibly Jasper to give the latest available information on tourist accommodations.

Numerous tourist folders and pamphlets also will be available this year, in addition to 125,000 strip or sectional road maps which will be issued by the Alberta Motor Association.

The provincial travel bureau also is expected to make a heavy issue of tourist materials. This will include 100,000 16-page illustrated tourist booklets, 50,000 tourist information booklets, and 50,000 revised highway maps.

Safety on the Highways is Stressed

Reduction of the number of accidents on the streets and highways is being given fresh study by officials of the Alberta Motor Association which is continuing to promote safety education.

Recently attention was drawn in a court action to the great number of old cars on the highways, many with defective equipment. It has been claimed that 16 per cent of the fatal accidents in 1947 were due to old vehicles which had faulty equipment.

Another need to avoid accidents is to "keep to the right" of the centre line on main highways.

"The great number of head-on and side-swipe collisions emphasizes the importance of observing with scrupulous care the regulation to keep to the right of the centre of the highway," said an official.

"Every driver knows the zone of safety but may ignore it. The tendency is to straddle the road when no other cars are approaching and the habit persists."

"Accidents from this cause are entirely avoidable. With cars on their own side of the road, no head-on or side-swipe collisions would ever occur. The motorist who drives to the right of the centre under all conditions is contributing mightily to the safety of the highways."

Mayor and Councillors
Criminal Code

Gentlemen:

Following is the police report:

1 for operating a gaming house.

14 for being inmates of a gaming house.

2 for assaulting the night porter in the Grand Union hotel.

3 for being drunk in a public place.

1 under the Highway traffic act.

The keeper of the gaming house was fined $100 and cost of court. Each inmate was fined $10 and costs.

The two men for assaulting the night porter were fined $10 and costs and paid $22 for breaking eye glasses.

The party under the V.H.T.A. was fined $5 and costs.

The drunk was fined the usual fine of $20 and costs of court.

Will come to the Town of Coleman when applied for.

The licenses under the new by-law are being collected. To date $293.00 has been collected.

I might say the Aluminum Ware Co. has paid their license fee of $50 for the current year.

The dog tags seem to be slow coming in this year. To date 52 dog tags have been paid.

A bill will be presented to the council in favor of the R.C.M. Police for escort duty to bring back Hugh Dugan from Brooks.

This man passed seven cheques in a gambling place. He came up for preliminary trial and was committed for trial to the Supreme Court, but it is a question if it will ever come to trial.

The trial was committed in a gaming house or at a card game and the attorney general might not want to prosecute for cheques passed at a card game.

Heavy Outlays
For Highways

Large expenditures will be made this year by the Alberta government on highway improvements. This was disclosed in the speech from the throne read at the opening of the first session of the 11th legislature on Feb. 17.

The speech also indicated that increased outlays would be made on secondary and market roads.

With the government's financial position continuing to improve particularly on account of big revenues from the oil industry, it would not be surprising to see many millions put into highway improvements this year.

Highways connecting with the national parks also will see substantial outlays, while hard surfacing of other main highways probably will be extended.

Prospects also are improved for an all-weather highway connection with the Alaska highway at Dawson Creek, as the B.C. government has announced that it will reconstruct the 30-mile stretch from Pouce Coupe east to Tupper Creek on the Alberta border.

Officials of the Alberta Motor Association have expressed satisfaction over the improved highway outlook for 1949. They say that traffic demands probably will see a record movement this season, making it essential that Alberta keep in the forefront of western provinces preparing to provide adequate facilities for the forthcoming tourist tide.

"Service With A Smile" Is A Motto Well Lived Up To In Coleman's Red & White Store

The exacting standards of merchandising that have developed in recent years, particularly in those stores handling perishable goods, calls for merchantile proprietorship of the highest order and in this respect Coleman's popular Red and White Store is meeting the challenge with plenty to spare. This present proprietors of this first-class shopping unit, John Owen and Ken Ross, since taking over the store on partnership basis a few years ago, have left no stone unturned in their desire to provide Coleman and district's discriminating food buyers with the kind of service that means repeat business.

Despite the fact the store is not located on the Main Street, Ross and Owen have surmounted this handicap by their zeal in serving the public with a blend of speed and courtesy that never fails to draw favorable comment from their customers. The grocery department under the supervision of Ken is well stocked and all items are conveniently placed for easy procurement on a "Serve Yourself" basis—or if the customer likes his or her necessities picked out by a clerk, they will find one at their service promptly.

The phone service is another medium that gets instant attention in this modern store and the many shoppers who use this convenient method of shopping find their requirements being delivered with a speed and efficiency that is a source of constant delight to those who choose this method of solving their shopping problems.

The clean up-to-date Meat department is under the supervision of John Owen and his expert handling of this all-important section of the store is another strong selling point. A top-notch refrigerator ensures that all meats are maintained in the best possible condition. John is an experienced hand at this delicate matter of cutting and serving Meat to fill the requirements of the most exacting clients and with the aid of another first-class "meat-man", Mr. J. Hammer. All this service is maintained under the Red and White motto of "Service With A Smile"—a phrase that means more than a shopworn motto in this busy mercantile centre. Proprietors and clerks alike are always put the motto to work as they go about their desired tasks of serving and pleasing the Coleman public.

Anglicans Entertain United Church Members at Social

Radio Game of "20 Questions" Proves Real Entertainment For Unique Social Gathering.

A pleasant social hour was held in St. Alban's parish hall last Sunday evening after Evening. Dr. McGowan of the United church and the members of his congregation were guests of St. Alban's congregation at the social. The program took the form of the game of "20 Questions" familiar to most radio listeners. The subjects were taken from the Bible. Mr. Sid Short was master of ceremonies, and had chosen a wide variety of subjects. Some caused considerable amusement, and most tested the knowledge of the "experts". The first panel of "experts" consisted of Rev. A. S. Dewdney, Mrs. F. W. Smith, Mr. Robert Woods, Mrs. W. Martland and Mr. W. Antrobus. The second group were Dr. McGowan, Mrs. Frank Graham, Mrs. A. S. Dewdney, Mr. P. Dickleson, and Richard Gerard. Some of the subjects successfully guessed were "The golden calf", "Adam's Rib", "Noah's Ark", "The Streets of Gold". St. Alban's Women's Association served tea and biscuits.

ADVERTISING PAYS DIVIDENDS

Importance of retailers advertising in their weekly newspapers was emphasized by Nelson McFarland of Long Branch, Ont.

"We are definitely sold on advertising in our store and have run the gamut of advertising experience and experimentation," he told the hard-headed hardwaremen, according to a report in Hardware and Metal. "It is our considered opinion that the best medium for reaching large masses over an extended area is the local weekly newspaper. We have the misfortune of being located at the end of the business section and only by consistent and dynamic advertising have we maintained a high sales volume. Many of us are small retailers operating in small local areas where they have these small weekly newspapers. These papers are close to the community, they are friendly and intimate, and subscribers read them from cover to cover. Your ad cannot help but make a terrific impression."

Anglican Parish Mission To Be Held In The Fall

To Be Conducted by the Rev. R. J. Morley, of the Society of St. John

At the evening service in St. Alban's church last Sunday, the Rev. A. S. Dewdney announced that after consultation with the Bishop he had decided to make plans for a Parish Mission to be held during the week of October 9th to 16th. The Mission will be conducted by the Rev. R. J. Morley, one of the members of the well-known Anglican monastic order, the Society of St. John the Evangelist, better known as the "Cowley Fathers". This order has branches in England, the United States, South Africa, India, Japan, as well as in Canada. The main house in Canada is situated in Bracebridge, Ont. A new branch has recently been established at Sorrento, B.C. in the diocese of Kootenay. An extensive work is carried on in rural areas, and the priests of the community are in great demand to conduct Missions and Retreats in all parts of Canada and the U.S. The Anglican church in Coleman is fortunate in being able to procure one of these men.

The purpose of the Mission is to win back the lapsed and indifferent, to bring the message of Christ and His Church to those who are outside its fellowship, and to strengthen and encourage the faithful. It does not consist of emotional revival meetings. It includes a series of connected instructions on Christian faith and practice. Special Mission services for children will be held each afternoon after school.

The Mission services each evening are open to all, and the general public is cordially invited. The services will be informal with well-known hymns, simple prayers, and a plain, definite presentation of the Christian faith.

LIONS AND THEIR LADIES HEAR ADDRESS BY DR. CARSON OF GUIDANCE CLINIC

The regular supper meeting of the Lions Club took the form of "Ladies' Night" when the Leos gathered in the Dining Room of the Grand Union Hotel on Monday evening last. Guest speaker was Dr. Carson, of the Guidance Clinic which was held in Coleman during the past week. The ladies and their Lion escorts made an attentive audience as the noted psychiatrist outlined the substantial assistance many mentally harassed people had received from visits to the Clinic.

Main theme of his interesting remarks was the fact that many people were unaware of the definite improvements that could be achieved by taking their problems to the Guidance Clinic such as the one being held in Coleman.

A. R. Mosher Calls On Labor To Support Red Cross

No Other Agency Has Done More in the Field of Humanitarian Service, Declares Congress Chief.

No other agency under public or private auspices has done more or is doing more now to provide humanitarian service in cases of need than the Canadian Red Cross Society, Pres. A. R. Mosher, Canadian Congress of Labour, declared today in urging all workers and citizens to support the society's national appeal for $5,000,000, now nearing the end of its third week.

"It is significant that the Red Cross is continually endeavouring to extend the scope of its beneficent work," said Mr. Mosher.

"New avenues of service are being developed in the light of experience and expanding needs. Those responsible for the policies of Red Cross are looking forward to the future and planning for it. They are quick to take advantage of new discoveries in science and medicine, in order to utilize them as fully as possible.

"Emphasis is now being laid upon the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service, which was one of the major developments of the war years, and this free service is saving the lives of many Canadians."

Mr. Mosher also stressed the faithful service given by Red Cross members throughout the nation, the Society's Junior Red Cross, work for veterans and civilians at home and abroad and Disaster Relief services.

Shirley Temple

Jennifer Jones

OUT ON LOAN—$1,000,000 Hollywood deal provides that David O. Selznick's top box-office attractions be loaned to Warner Bros. where Shirley Temple is to make two movies. Other stars being loaned to do two motion pictures are Betsy Drake, Joseph Cotten and Gregory Peck. Cotten is to co-star with Bette Davis. Jennifer Jones is to make one screen play. She is leaving soon for England with Selznick to star in title role in "Victoria Grandet", her "loan" film. —S.N.S. photo.

IN HOSPITAL FOR TWENTY YEARS—Although he has spent 20 years in San Francisco's St. Francis Hospital, Phil Vincor, 63, greets each tomorrow with new hope. Almost a complete paraplegic, Vincor suffered a broken back in an auto accident two decades ago. Eight years ago, he was allowed to leave in a wheelchair to attend the wedding of his daughter. KISS FOR MA, NONE FOR NEW POP—Screen star Margaret O'Brien wiped tears away from her eyes long enough to kiss her mother, Mrs. Gladys O'Brien, after latter was married to Don Sylvio, orchestra leader, (right), by County Judge Richard P. Robbins at Palm Beach, Fla. But Margaret refused to kiss her new stepfather for benefit of photographers and posed stony-faced with the bridal party. ALLEGED RAFFLES IN HAPPIER DAYS—Held in Westchester county, N.Y., as an alleged Raffles who victimized scores of wealthy home-owners to the tune of several hundred thousand dollars, Gerard Dennis is shown here in a Beverly Hills, Calif., nightclub with Betty Ritchie, formerly of Toronto and Fendon Falls, Ont., now being held by Beverly Hills police where she was seized in a raid on Dennis' swank apartment. In that happier day before he was picked up by police as an uncommonly gifted robber and thief, Dennis spotted a swank moustache. —S.N.S. photo.

DRAWNS OWN NUMBER, GETS PRIZE—"Is my face red," exclaimed Mrs. Stewart Muir, wife of the president of the London, Ont., Kiwanis club, when she drew her own ticket in a lucky number contest for an expensive wrist watch donated by a jeweller member. EX-MOVIE QUEEN IN HOLLYWOOD—Gloria Swanson, nearing her 51st birthday, has come back to Hollywood to play a role for which she is especially fitted, that of an ex-movie queen. The woman who rose from a $24-a-day bathing beauty extra to a $12,000-a-week screen siren in the '20s and early '30s, has signed a contract for a role in Paramount's "Sunset Boulevard".

NOT WITH GERMAN DOCTOR EMPHASIZES—Dr. Michel-Lucien Segneur, 42-year-old French physician, gave emphatic denial in Montreal to charges that he served with a German S.S. unit during the occupation of France. "My political sympathies lay with Marshal Petain, but after all, a man is entitled to his personal beliefs," said the doctor. He was questioned by newspaper men on accusations made against him in the House of Commons by Alastair Stewart (C.C.F., Winnipeg North) who charged the doctor, according to information received from a Maquis officer, had served the Germans during the Second World War. —S.N.S. photo.

CANADIAN REMEMBRANCE CEREMONY IN ITALY—Special services were held recently at the Canadian war cemetery in Triggiano, near Bari. The Archbishop of Quebec officiated and Jean Desy, the Canadian Ambassador, was in attendance. Here the Canadian flag is being hoisted to the mast which stands in the centre of the cemetery. —S.N.S. photo.

WATER OVER THE BRIDGE AGAIN—The expression "water under the bridge," oft used in reference to happenings of the past, takes a new twist from this picture of the restored Mittelland canal-bridge across the Weser river near Minden, Germany. It's the water over the bridge that probably revives memories for the Germans watching the canal doors opening to admit boats for the first time since shortly before the end of the war. Reconstruction work on the unique double-waterway, completed recently, took two years and cost about six million marks. The 370-metre span was destroyed by the Wehrmacht in its retreat. It was reopened for traffic recently amidst festive ceremonies. —S.N.S. photo.

"PEEPING TOM" BEATS OFF PURSUER—Cottagers at Lake Wilcox, Ont., are alarmed by the presence of "peeping Tom". For some months now residents have reported visits by a man also called "Flying Phantom". The man has been seen and chased several times, but has never been caught. When shadow crossed the window of the Seguin home recently, Mr. Seguin gave chase but was beaten up in struggle. Later, he heard steps outside and along with some neighbors resumed the pursuit. Shown are some of the cottages. —S.N.S. photo.

OIL FINDS MEAN RICHES FOR ONLY SOME—Many Leduc farmers, like husband of Mrs. Anton Slacknick, (above), receive only a modest rental for land from oil companies, but they do not receive any money from oil found on their property. Many of farmers own their land, but the title to the land does not include the rich mineral rights. Martin Hamula and his family, who owned mineral rights to their farm land, at Leduc, Alberta, received $85,000 bonus plus royalties on all oil produced from their land. Mineral rights to many Leduc farms were retained by big companies. —S.N.S. photo.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

THE PILE OF JUNK

By WANDA MOORE

HEY, Mr. Brown, want a lift," Mr. Laney shouted. Mr. Brown looked everywhere but at him. "Didn't expect to see me driving a car," Mr. Laney muttered to himself.

He poked his head out of the glassless side window. "Over here, Mr. Brown. Hurry, before the light changes."

Mr. Brown saw him and nodded. As he stepped briskly across the sidewalk, he looked with distaste on the battered front fender, at the rust spots dotting the bright blue paint, and at the glassless door. He stepped gingerly on the running board and slid into the seat beside Mr. Laney just as the light changed.

Mr. Laney joined the parade of traffic. "Surprised you, didn't I?" His pale blue eyes twinkled momentarily at Mr. Brown and then back at the car in front of him.

"Surprised me?" asked Mr. Brown. "The twinkle increased in the blue eyes. 'Yes, me with a car. Wait till the wife and kids see it.' Excitement bubbled in his voice."

Mr. Brown turned in the seat and looked squarely at Mr. Laney. "Haven't they seen it yet?" he asked.

"Nope!" Mr. Laney shook his head vigorously. "And, Mister, will they be excited?"

"I doubt it," said Mr. Brown, as he turned to examine the worn upholstery. "Do you mean to tell me that you are taking this pile of junk home and are going to pawn it off on your family as a car?"

It was lucky for Mr. Laney that the light changed to red because he jammed his foot on the brake and turned to stare at Mr. Brown. "Was this his neighbor, Mr. Brown? The man who borrowed his lawn mower and whose wife borrowed the vacuum cleaner with regularity. Was this the man who said that no family was complete without a car? Yes, and a very sour-looking Mr. Brown."

"What do you mean?" he asked, as he moved ahead with the green light.

"You people have been talking car for weeks now. Your children stand around and admire my car whenever I have it out of the garage. They'll be ashamed of this rattletrap."

Mr. Laney laughed harshly. "You'll be the laughingstock of the neighborhood."

Mr. Laney tightened his grip on the wheel. Just keep on talking, brother, he said to himself, and you'll be the laughingstock with that black eye you're asking for. He wished that he had not picked up this voice of doom.

He forced his voice to remain calm. "They know we can't afford a fancy car. Of course," he added slowly, "if Mita hadn't broken her arm falling out of that tree, there would have been more money."

"You shouldn't get a decent one," Mr. Brown commented sourly.

"Oh, yes, I should." The vision of Mita was between Mr. Laney and the car in front of him. Mita cried with one arm dangling at her side. Mita begging him to forget the old arm so that he would have money to buy the car. Mita not wanting to spoil something that they had all counted on during the months that they had pooled money toward the dreamed-of car.

"Now, my children," Mr. Brown was saying pompously, "are proud of our car. You want your children to be proud of what you have. There is no pleasure for them in something they're ashamed of."

"We just want to have fun," said Mr. Laney. "The kids can tumble all over this car."

"And blush for shame every time someone sees them riding in it," the voice of doom grew stronger.

Mr. Laney was just driving now. All the pleasure in his new possession had left him. Maybe Mr. Brown was right. He could feel the worn upholstery without looking at it. He could see the battered right fender and a smattering of rust spots. It would be a disappointment to the kids not to have a nice shiny car like Mr. Brown's. The wife wouldn't say anything. She'd understand, but the kids... he had been so sure until now.

He slowed the car. Maybe he'd better take it back. No, by golly! He stepped on the gas. He'd show Mr. Brown.

With a flourish, he stopped in front of his house and honked the horn. Mr. Brown pushed the reluctant door handle and slid out of the car.

"Oh, Mr. Laney," cried the older girl, "what a swell car."

"The younger pulled open the back door and tumbled onto the seat. 'This is the kind of car I want,' she chirruped. 'No worry about scratches. You can sit on the seat without being yelled at. Oh, Mr. Laney, it's beautiful. Can we go for a ride?'"

Mr. Laney nodded happily, but he did not dare to look at Mr. Brown. He did not want a chunk of the near exploding Mr. Brown landing in his eye and keeping him from giving the whole bunch a bang-up ride.

"I can run faster than Mama," yelled Mita, her broken arm flopping in its bandanna cradle.

"Oh, Dad," cried Sonny, his eyes shining, "you did get a car. Can we help you shine it and then go for a ride?"

Mrs. Laney said nothing. Words were not necessary. Her eyes said, "Dear, you're wonderful."

Out of the corner of his eye, Mr. Laney saw the obvious disappointment on Mr. Brown's face. He felt like saying, "These are my kids, Mr. Brown."

He said nothing, as Mr. Brown turned away with sourness puckering his face while he gave the car one last disdainful look.

Suddenly, the Browns' front door flew open. The two Brown children ran excitedly down the walk and up to the car.

"Oh, Mr. Laney," cried the older girl, "what a swell car."

Place Names In Canada Lack Beauty

REGINA.—During the last few years there has been a distinct change in the choice of names for Canadian sites.

And in the words of a Saskatchewan historian, "The names they give nowadays don't mean anything."

Zachary M. Hamilton, secretary of the Saskatchewan Historical Society, says many modern place-names are exceedingly silly and show a singular lack of individuality.

A few of our beautiful—and ordinary—names are straight importations or "steals" from the old country. Glasnevin, Sask., was named after a cemetery in Ireland and Innisfail is another Irish name.

One string of towns in Saskatchewan along a railway line is all named after relatively unknown railroads.

All over Canada the general practice of naming lakes, mountains and town-sites after a minor contemporary figure is increasing.

But names linked to actual local history or local description are becoming a thing of the past.

Mr. Hamilton says many of this province's most beautiful names—chosen many years ago—came from the Cree, "a gentle, soft, lovely and very descriptive Indian language." Names like Sinituluta and Moosomin are from the Cree.

Saskatchewan May Boost Highway Hard Surfacing Program

REGINA.—Possibility of Saskatchewan highways department embarking on an enlarged hard surfacing program to conserve diminishing gravel supplies in the province was foreseen by Highways Minister J. T. Douglas speaking in the budget debate in the legislature.

In the course of his 90-minute address, Mr. Douglas defended the work his department had done during the past five years, after taking over, he claimed, the "biggest" and "worst" highway system in Canada.

WHEAT SUPPLY FOR CROP YEAR 471,300,000 BUSHELS

OTTAWA.—Canada's total wheat supply for the 1948-49 crop year has been placed by the bureau of statistics at 471,300,000 bushels, compared with 429,300,000 bushels in the 1947-48 crop year.

The bureau released the total in its monthly review of the world wheat situation on the basis of revised figures showing a carry-over of 77,700,000 bushels of wheat at July 31, 1948, the end of the 1947-48 wheat year.

A tree with a butt diameter of 12 feet and a length of 278 feet, produced 165,000 bushels of or enough lumber to build eight houses.
